RECENT ACQUISITIONS

Throughout the course of the past few years many of our customers have chosen to downsize their jewelry collections. Eichhorn Jewelry has been the beneficiary of these items from antique and vintage diamond jewelry - both high end and moderately priced - to fashion sterling silver and costume pieces. Some collectors have chosen us to purchase their entire jewelry treasures. This gathering has resulted in a plethora of rings, necklaces, bracelets, earrings, and oddments each priced from $20 to many thousands of dollars.

Recent acquisitions range from pre-owned Rolex watches to Judith Ripka rings. No day passes without an area jeweler referring customers to us (and for that we are very thankful). That is how we have been able to offer our customers well made estate jewelry at tremendous savings!

Our accumulations have been at historic levels of late granting us the opportunity to refurbish: cleaning/polishing and doing any needed repairs prior to selling. Many of these estate items can be seen on our website at www.eichhornjewelry.com.

Some customers while looking either in our shop or online may not find the exact item they have been in search of. Occasionally, items never make it to our one dozen estate showcases. We call a customer who had been looking for a specific item and resell it before many of the staff has a chance to see it! We suggest either sending us an email or calling us if you are looking for an unusual or rare gem.

Often we tell our customers we feel like an “adoption agency” trying to find someone who would appreciate the fine piece of estate jewelry as much as the previous owner. It is especially satisfying if this happens.
